My previous experience of recruitment companies had been generally negative so I didn't expect very much when Lisa contacted me regarding a position at Ellbee Ltd. However, from the first call it became apparent that Lisa had my welfare in mind as well as that of Ellbee.

My questions were answered truthfully and any information given proved to be accurate. Techsearch have dispelled many of my fears and doubts regarding searching for work via a recruitment consultancy and I would be confident and happy to use them in the future.
